North Logan House Creek, water rights and watershed yield:

This application is supported by analyses of existing water rights originating from North Logan House Creek and the capabilities of the North Logan House Creek watershed to provide a consistent water supply to satisfy the demands of existing water rights and to permit transfer of the point of diversion from North Logan House Creek to Lake Tahoe without resultant depletion of the Lake Tahoe water resource. The analyses of water rights and watershed yield, conclusions and supporting documentation are contained in a report prepared by Milton L. Sharp, Professional Engineer and Water Right Surveyor. The report, titled Evaluation of Water Rights and Water Resources, North Logan House Creek, Lake Tahoe Basin, Douglas County, Nevada and dated April 1992 was submitted to the Division of Water Resources in support of Applications No. 57366 and 57367
